

Almost 7,200 more flights than in February of last year

ENAIRe managed almost 127,000 flights in February, a 6% increase

- Spain is still growing above the European average
- 53 consecutive months of traffic growth
- Domestic flights register a double-digit grow
- Air traffic grows in all control centres: Canary Islands (7.1%), Seville (6.6%), Madrid (5.8%), Barcelona (4.9%) and Palma (1.5%)

13 March 2018

ENAIRe, the air navigation manager in Spain, managed 126,806 flights in February, that is, 7,187 flights more than in the same month of the previous year and a 6% rise with respect to the same period of 2017.

This percentage is higher than the European average in February (4.2%). Including the last month, it is now 53 consecutive months of air traffic growth in Spain.

Domestic flights have grown the most (10%) with a total of 29,194 in February. International flights amounted to 69,343, a 3.9% increase. Overflights (flights whose origin and destination are not Spanish airports) added to 28,269, a 7.4% rise.

Traffic increased in all of ENAIRe's air traffic control centres: Canary Islands (7.1% and 27,535 flights), Seville (6.6% and 25,421), Madrid (5.8% and 76,601), Barcelona (4.9% and 49,402) and Palma (1.5% and 9,725).

Note. The total traffic registered by ENAIRe's network does not correspond to the sum of flights managed by each Control Centre (CC). This is due to the fact that a flight is registered according to the air space and route it crosses. For example: a flight that departs from Adolfo Suárez Madrid-Barajas Airport to Barcelona-El Prat is registered in the Madrid CC and the Barcelona CC.

Cumulative data for 2018
