ENAIRe abides by the principles established in the United Nations Global Compact

- It is committed to fulfilling, supporting and spreading values with regard to human rights, work, environment and the fight against corruption
- It implies drawing up and publishing progress reports

18 May 2018

ENAIRe, the Public Works Group Company that manages air navigation in Spain, has endorsed the principles in the United Nations Global Compact. This step is part of ENAIRe's commitment with the Corporate Social Responsibility within the framework of its 2020 Strategic Flight Plan.

The aforementioned commitment has been voluntarily made by ENAIRe and implies the application of these values with international standards for all its strategy lines and operations.

The principles of the Global Compact concern four fields: human rights, work standards, environment and anti-corruption:

- Human rights: to support and respect internationally proclaimed human rights: to guarantee there are no accomplices in this field of abuse.
- Work standards: allow freedom and effective recognition of the right to collective bargaining; elimination of all types of forced, compulsory and child labour; abolition of job and labour related discrimination..
- Environment: preventively tackle environmental challenges; carry out initiatives to encourage greater environmental responsibility, as well as the development and promotion of friendly environmental technologies.
- Anti-corruption: fight corruption on all its fronts, including extortion and bribery.
